

Equality Objectives 2024-28

In addition to promoting equality, diversity and inclusion in the College, we are also aware of our duty to prepare students for life in modern Britain and to ensure that they make a positive contribution to society as citizens of the future. Our planned activity is informed by societal issues such as the national unrest in the summer, and by women's and girls' experience of sexism and misogyny.

1. To continue to promote positive relationships between all members of the College community, raising awareness of the particular challenges faced by ethnic minority students; to ensure that ethnic minority students' experience of college life is as positive as that of others; and to build an anti-racist culture supported by all members of the college community.
2. To work to challenge gender stereotypes and sexist and misogynistic behaviour.
3. To ensure that students most affected by poverty, particularly those in receipt of Free College Meals (FCM), receive the support and the opportunities they need to achieve the same success as other students.
